

The Honorable Thomas Ragno
Immigration Judge
Immigration and Naturalization Service
US Dept. of Justice
JFK Federal Building
Government Center
Boston, Mass.
02203

Dec. 19 1981

Dear Judge Ragno:

A recent tip-off says that [] the CIA official, tried an attempt to kidnap me []

STAT

STAT

When I sent out an appeal for help, last September, which I am attaching herewith, to the appropriate congressional committees as well as to the executive branches of the government, I had to pick up another tip-off, according to which [] ordered his covert operatives either to stop or destroy my mails. I saw the [] post-master, telling him of the tip-off, and then placed a telephone call to FBI office [] asking for their protection of my mails.

STAT

STAT

STAT

To solve my case against my former professor at the University [] who conspired with [] to arrest and convict me illegally (see my Nov. 29 1981 letter to the president of [] which I am attaching herewith) I visited every law firm in [] asking for their legal help. It turned out that [] spread words that I am his " slave " and that it is he who " runs [] ". The uniform reaction of the lawyers to my appeal for their

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

legal help was a frenetic rejection. One of those honest lawyers told to me, to quote: " I have a family to feed ".

Really, am I entitled to the legal protection in this country ? Obviously, Mr [] thinks otherwise.

STAT

* * *

Despite my appeal for a stop of the harassment which I manifested in my May 19 1981 letter, I can not see any sign of an end to [] arrangement of the five dimensional strangulations. STAT

In my appeal, I made it clear that to treat me as his slave, as a mere instrument for his covert operations [] is to deny my inalienable human rights to pursue my own happiness: to violate my personal freedom: and to intrude into my privacy and my personal happiness. STAT

At the same time, I suggested that, given a proven incapacity of [] to make a balanced and mature judgement, the continuance of [] covert operations in [] can only result in a further deterioration of US strategic positions in [] I wrote: " the longer he will stay at his post, the more the danger of another military conflict in [] will become inevitable ", thus advising him to step down. STAT

Obviously, I couldn't get across my points forcefully enough, because the status quo still prevails. Therefore, I begin this letter by supplementing my reasons which I listed in my May 19 letter, showing why [] judgement must be regarded as flawed. STAT

* * *

1. Really, are those things such as my human rights to pursue my own happiness, my personal freedom, and my privacy, only a rubbish to be thrown away into a garbage bin only for [] sake ? STAT

In [] view, I can and ought to be forced and compelled to be a mere instrument of his covert operations [] by all the horrors of the five dimensional strangulations, by starvation, and by illegal arrests which I described in my May 19 letter. Otherwise, or if I had a job enabling me to lead my own independent, decent life in this country, I may care less for becoming an obedient slave, a mere instrument of his covert operations in [] STAT

Is this not an inverted way of thinking on the part of [] regarding the black as the white ? Is this not " an outgrowth of bygone Hitler's ghost within the very heart of governmental bureaucracy" ? STAT

Certainly, [] way of thinking represents an underestimation and contempt of a deep seated human aspiration to be free, and in particular, an underestimation and contempt of [] In this connection, I wrote to [] of [] was intrepid enough to imagine that he can achieve something great by sheer compulsion and ingenuity alone. However, compulsion, when not accompanied by persuasion, does not carry one very far. And ingenuity, when not tempered by sound common sense, can easily turn into sheer stupidity. These are what history proves to be true again and again. The case of [] is not the exception ". STAT

* * *

2. Really, what kind of fruit can we expect of a monstrously mean and fiendishly malignant seed which is the [] Way ?

STAT

For a decade, [] has been boasting, to quote: " I go my way ". what kind of " way " is this ? I will show that the [] Way is indeed monstrously mean and fiendishly malignant.

STAT

STAT

When a quasi-arrest was added to the formal, my illegal arrests which were engineered by [] behind my back add up to no less than 9. Let me cite just three examples, one quasi, two formal, only to show the true colors of the [] way.

STAT

STAT

An example of formal arrest: on April 1 1978, I was eating a supper peacefully in a dining hall at the University [], my Alma Mater, where I took my MA in economics. All of sudden, a campus police barged in and handcuffed me in the presence of many students who packed the dining hall. I was thrown into the [] County jail, [] on a charge of criminal trespassing. At the trial on April 11, the police concocted a story that he issued to me a prior warning to leave the dining hall, and I resisted his warning, causing my arrest.

STAT

STAT

An example of quasi arrest: on March 20 1978, someone knocked at the door of my hotel room in []. Opening the door, I found two police who took me to the [] PD. It turned out that three detectives came down to [] from [] to pick me up as a suspect of murder case of a young girl who was murdered in september 1977 in the vicinity of []. I was a suspect of the murder case because: 1) the murdered girl could speak Russian, and I also can speak Russian: 2) I happened to stay in [] when she was murdered. On the

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

basis of these facts, the police drew an outrageous conclusion that there was a consistency.

After prolonged questioning, I was released late that night. Next day, I moved from [] The police came again to see me in [] taking me to the [] I was forced to take the lie detector test. Next day, on March 23, I was arrested by the [] Immigration on the advice of [] police. After my release from this arrest on March 31, I returned from [] only to be arrested again by the University campus police next day on April 1, on a charge of criminal trespassing.

The police came to see me in the [] County jail to investigate the murder case of a young girl. The police insisted on my taking the lie detector test again. I had no choice. During the test, the police constantly asked: " why do you look so bothered ? ". And it's implications were really ominous. Suppose they keep on asking this threatening question: " why are you so bothered ? " and despite my reasonable explanation, what if they keep on insisting on something really crazy ? What if they keep on investigating, even though there is nothing to investigate any more ? What if they do not take their suspicion off my back, pretending that something is wrong ? What if they sue me on a concocted charge of murder over and above the charge of criminal trespassing for which I was already imprisoned ? I felt a mind boggling trepidation.

As a matter of fact, in 1978, [] engineered behind my back three consecutive arrests, at the same time, implicated me in a murder case of a young girl only to keep me in " a ready posture " as his slave. In his mind, " the ready posture " implied " a posture locked up in a jail, ready to be deportable to [] STAT at any moment for his convenience ". Thus, on March 9, I was arrested in [] STAT [] for criminal trespassing, which was an another outrageous frame-up. STAT

 Simultaneously in [] the police advised the [] Immigration for my STAT arrest and deportation, which led to my arrest on March 23. And a frame-up was begun, implicating me in a murder case of a young girl. Lastly on April 1, I was arrested by the campus police of the University [] for the criminal trespassing. STAT

In 1978, I was still laboring under " my naive illusion ", and clung desperately to the false image of " my brotherly friend, [] " who will come to my STAT rescue. I tried stubbornly to meet " his Requirement ", but only in vain.
 It was futile, among others, because, as I was stunned to learn after my release from the County jail on April 11, whenever I met with someone, including a young lady, " some people " made it a point to approach and impose upon them ugly misinformations, in their words, only to " protect the innocent people from possible harms which might arise from the contact with [] such as: 1) [] is STAT illegal alien, subject to imminent deportation: 2) the reason [] is looking STAT for " a chick " is to avoid the impending deportation and continue to stay in the US: 3) [] only feigns a professor, his ID is fake: 4) once a math major student, STAT who happened to take economics as a minor, talked with [] finding him completely STAT ignorant of economics: 5) once [] took a fancy to " a chick " in the [] STAT harassed her that she quit the [] and went to the [] school. [] followed STAT her even to [] and harassed again. So she had to quit the [] school. STAT adamantly rejected [] to the end: 6) once [] visited a professor who STAT was reluctant to receive him, and was so insistent that the professor was obliged to call the police: 7) [] is a disturbed insane person. STAT

It goes without saying that " some people who rendered this " kind service " of besmirching honor and dignity of [] were no other than [] STAT covert operatives who operated under his command, and that the real villain behind this drama was [] himself, though this was the truth which I " found out " , STAT as [] saying goes, much much later after lots of agony. STAT

An another example of formal arrest: on June 17 1980, I was evicted from the [] STAT hotel, [] I piled up my belongings on the backyard of the hotel and went STAT to the telephone booth nearby, to ask for a help from my friend in California.
He cheered me up over the phone, saying that he had sent some money to the hotel, made an arrangement with the hotel manager for my continued stay and urged me to go back and see the hotel manager. Elated, I returned only to find a police who arrested me on a charge of criminal trespassing.

The jail cell at the [] PD. was so chilly. Shivering all night, I felt a sharp STAT pain in my stomach, but there was no toilet paper around. I yelled for help, but only empty echo came back. And over my groaning from the pain, I had to hear nice melody over the radio, relaying a message of [] which said: " You STAT are the sun, I am the moon. You are my music. The jail is only another hotel with free room and board " .

It was through such an agony and the sleepless nights that I had to learn hard way what kind of freedom the [] Way stood for and what a monstrously STAT mean and fiendishly malignant spirit lay behind the gentle facade of the [] STAT Way. In this connection, I wrote to [] " sometime STAT in the winter of 1979, you told me to the effect that only a discipline of hunger can wake me up. You were right. I needed long long nights which I spent sleepless out of hunger, in order to wake up. I needed long long nights which I spent sleepless out of freezing cold, in order to wake up. I needed long long nights in a jail, which I spent sleepless, figuring a way to cope with perjury and a frame-up, in order to wake up ".

* * *

3. Really, can the puppet show with [] as a stage manager be consistent with national dignity of [] people ?

In [] view, there is no contradiction between the puppet show and the [] national sovereignty. And as [] boasting goes, the puppet show is total, ranging not only over politics, but also over economy, culture and social life in general. For instance, if [] pushes one button, thousands of university students may rush to stage a demonstration on the street of []. If [] pushes another button, the catholic nuns may go on a hunger strike. In case the third button is pushed, millions of dollars may conjure up through a rush of donation by [] businessmen. Indeed, this is a new variety of totalitarianism. Let us name this puppet show with [] as a stage manager as a neo-totalitarianism.

The trouble is that [] without discarding one bit his fervent faith in this neo-totalitarianism, advocates in the same breath [] into one, the celebrated ' [] Way '.

Really, what kind of [] unification is envisioned by the [] Way ?

If [] felt suffocated by the smallness of [] as a stage of his puppet show -- yes, indeed, the [] is smaller than some US state -- and fervently wish to expand his " living space " or " the co-prosperity zone " for his puppet show, it is only his personal, private affair, hardly worth the concern of [] In other words, when we strip the [] Way of all their verbal trappings, and get down to brass tacks, what is left dangling as an ultimate entity is only [] own infatuation with his role as a stage manager of puppet show and the ferocity with which [] tries to hang on, no matter what. STAT

Is this not an underestimation and contempt of [] ? Is this not a flawed capacity to make a balanced and mature judgement on the part of [] STAT

This is so because what is the [] Way as an unification plan, basing itself only on a malignant compulsion and a mean if cunning manipulation ? STAT

This is so because what is the [] Way as an unification plan, basing itself on a total disregard of a deep seated human aspiration to be free, be it a personal or national ? STAT

This is so because what is the [] Way as an unification plan, basing itself on a flagrant violation of national dignity [] ? STAT

To make the matter worse, the [] Way envisions the [] as a neutral [] STAT

Page Denied

Next 4 Page(s) In Document Denied

In view of the above, am I exaggerating if I say that the essence of the [redacted] Way is the monstrous meanness and the fiendish malignancy and that the [redacted] Way stands for the contempt of national dignity of

STAT

STAT

[redacted]

STAT

* * *

Really, I can not survive without my escape from the [redacted] Way. Can the

STAT

[redacted] survive without her escape from the [redacted] Way ? I pointed out in my May 19 letter that, to quote: " by setting up [redacted] a president and by involving the graduates of the four year military academy in internal politics, the [redacted] Army has ceased to be an effective professional combat force, and become a repressive political force ". I further pointed out in my appeal that, given a proven incapacity of [redacted] to make a balanced and mature judgement, " the longer he will stay at his post, the more the danger of another military conflict [redacted] will become inevitable ". Thus, it is my conviction that the United States can not be safe without putting an end to the [redacted] Way because it is a shameful attempt at fascization, because it is a road leading to another military conflict in

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

STAT

[redacted] and because it is a road leading to a tragic failure of US foreign policy in East Asia.

STAT

I am urging you to take my warning serious and take an appropriate action without delay.

Sincerely

[redacted]

STAT